DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first candleholder in structural combination with the second candleholder in structural combination with the plurality of bases must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement-drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant recites in the disclosure a plurality of different embodiments for a first, second, third and fourth candleholder. Applicant claims these multiple and different embodiments (for example in claims 1 and 14 (especially 14)) as part of one embodiment. Appropriate correction is required.
3. As best understood the following rejection applies.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1,2,5,9,10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wiedemer, Jr. (6,186,646).

Wiedemer discloses a first candleholder including an elongated plate having a top side having a plurality of wells extending therein (1), a rod being attached to a bottom side of said plate, said rod having a free end defining a threaded male coupler (14,15); a plurality of bases, each of said bases having a bottom wall, a top wall and peripheral wall extending between said top and bottom walls, each of said top walls having a threaded aperture extending therein and being adapted for receiving a threaded male coupler, each of said bases having a different size; and wherein candles may be selectively positioned in said wells (fig 3). Wiedemer does not disclose a second candleholder having a generally same shape as the first candle candleholder and a smaller size than said first candleholder including an elongated panel having a top side having a plurality of wells extending therein, a pole being attached to and extending downwardly from a bottom side of said panel, said pole having a free end defining a shape of said first candleholder, threaded male coupler. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a second candle holder having a generally same shape as the first candle candleholder has been held that mere duplication of essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8. Furthermore, with regard to the second candleholder being smaller than the first, it has been held that matters relating to ornamentation only which have no mechanical function cannot be relied upon to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. In re Seid , 161 F.2d 229, 73 USPQ 431 (CCPA 1947)

- Wherein said plate and said panel each have a plurality of openings extending wherein, said openings being positioned in a respective one of said top sides (fig 3);
- Wherein each of said bases has a frusta-pyramidal shape (13).
- Further including a plurality of extension members each being elongated and having an upper end and a lower end, each of said upper ends defining a threaded female coupler and each of said lower ends defining a threaded male coupler (21,12,27);

- Wherein at least one of said extension members has a plurality of holes extending therein said holes being aligned between said upper and lower ends (extension members are hollow).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 14 is allowed.
4. Claims 3,4,6-8,11-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
